

U. S. RUSHES MARINES TO AID AMERICANS AT TURKISH COAST

BATTLESHIPS TENNESSEE AND MONTANA TO SAIL WITHIN FORTY-EIGHT HOURS.

BOTH WELL ARMORED

REVENUE CUTTER UNALGA MAY ALSO BE USED.

SIX MONTHS SUPPLY CARRIED

Preparations Made to Give Aid to Foreigners Who May Be Endangered By Balkan War.

Washington, Nov. 8.—While active preparations are being made to get the armored cruisers Tennessee and Montana headed towards Turkish waters, within 48 hours, to protect Americans, the revenue cutter Unalga, now at Port Said, probably will be ordered back from the Suez canal, where it is to rush to the Turkish coast, where, after a three and one-half days' trip, she could arrive a full fortnight ahead of the big cruisers.

Acting Secretary of State Huntington Wilson tonight is considering the advantage of using the Unalga, and if he makes the request she will set out tomorrow to extend such relief as she is able, pending the arrival of her bigger sisters.

The Unalga is a fine new craft, commanded by Capt. R. O. Crisp. She carries a crew of 70 and if the larger vessels of the European fleet should overlook other foreigners in their zeal for their own nationals, the Unalga could furnish refuge for 500 or more Americans.

Both Ships Well Manned.

The Tennessee, the flagship of Rear Admiral Knight, who will command the expedition, and the Montana, each will carry 700 sailors and a company of marines each. A special train is now taking 400 bluejackets from the Norfolk navy yard to fill out the ships' crews.

Capt. Harry A. Field will be in charge of the Tennessee, while Capt.
W. B. Fletcher will command the Montana. Both vessels always carry six months' supplies, and with the stocks of their larders increased they could feed a vast number should famine threaten the Europeans and other foreigners in Turkey.

Except for the little gunboat Scorpion, station ship at Constantinople, which scarcely counts as a warship, these fine cruisers will be the first American men of war to pass through the straits since the old Hartford of civil war fame was allowed to anchor in front of Constantinople by special decree of the sultan to the dismay and alarm of European powers who vigorously protested against granting a privilege to a Yankee ship which was denied to the great powers of Europe.

Appeal for Holy War.

Constantinople, Nov. 8.—The Sheikh Ul Islam, head of the hierarchy in Turkey, today issued an appeal for a holy war in a manifesto to the Ulema and Hodjas. The manifesto says:

"With a view to exciting and encouraging the soldiers of the enemies who surround us, the priests with cross in hand are working in connection with the army. It is not fitting that our Ulema should neglect the accomplishment of a similar duty.

"In order that the victory and glory promised by the Almighty may be granted without delay to the Ottoman army, it is necessary that the venable Ulema organize a jihad."

Turkish Troops in Distress.

Constantinople, Nov. 7.—(By story of Kunste, Roumania.)—Bodies of Turkish troops which seized upon various bodies of the enemy which were worse, tales of pillage and rapine and massacre, continue to come from many points. It is reported that Nasim Pasha, the Turkish commander, has decided to send to their homes several thousand of his men who have shown the white flag on the field of battle, but logic would suggest that they deserve more serious punishment.

Reports of the excesses of the fleeing Turks in the town of Silivri, a port on the sea of Marmora southwest of Tchatalja, apparently are authentic.

Many of the inhabitants are said to have been massacred and the town burned. The population of Silivri was mostly Greek.

Thousands of Bulgarians Found Dead.

Ademkue, Nov. 6.—(Wireless from the staff of the Turkish army at Tcherkeskuei to headquarters here.)
—The Ottoman troops occupied Vies, south of Tirnovo, and have advanced as far as Kavakli. The Bulgarians have not occupied Tcherli. Reconnaissance in that direction has resulted in finding thousands of Bulgarians dead.

Tcherkeskuei is in wireless communication with Adrianople, where the situation is declared to be favorable.
It is asserted that the city may hold out for several months.

Fresh troops are reaching Tcherli from Makriouk and reinforcements, landed at Midia, on the Black Sea, continue to join the right wing of the Turkish army.

JOHNSTON WILL SUCCEED BAILEY

JUNIOR SENATOR IS TO RESIGN
OF DECEMBER.

COLQUITT NAMES HIS CHOICE

Will Appoint Editor-in-Chief of Houston Post to Fill Out Unexpired Term Until March.

Austin, Nov. 8.—Governor Colquitt was today advised by a close friend of United States Senator Bailey that Senator Bailey will resign during the month of December to enter the active practice of law. His term expires March 4th, and Congressman Morris Sheppard is nominated to succeed him.

Governor Colquitt announced that in the event Senator Bailey resigns, he will take pleasure in appointing Col. R. M. Johnston, editor-in-chief of the Houston Post, to fill out the unexpired portion of Senator Bailey's term. He makes the further statement that no man has done more to fight the battles of democracy than has Col. Johnston and that he is his warm personal friend.

That Senator Bailey has been completing retirement from the United States senate for some time has been known to many throughout the state, and to his close personal friends. That Governor Colquitt would name Col. Johnston, in the event Senator Bailey did retire was currently understood. Col. Johnston was until the Baltimore convention, the democratic national committee man from Texas. He served on that committee during several campaigns, and he has been invited into the councils of the national organization frequently. He was a close personal friend of Governor E. F. Taylor, while New Yorker was national chairman, and he has had the confidence and friendship of many men prominent in the affairs of the party in the nation.

Col. Johnston, who is now in the Alton, Ill., has been a Texas explorer, and has been one of the strongest workers in Texas for the cause.

United Mine Workers' in Suit.

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 8.—Seven suits asking damages of $250,000 have been filed in the federal court for this southern district of West Virginia.

The suits are against officers of the United Mine Workers of America and in the circuit court of Kanawha county against local officers of the miners' union by companies whose mines were closed by the strike.

Negro Weeps When Unable to Furnish $30,000 Bond—Other Arrests Made in Case.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—Jack Johnson, negro champion heavyweight pugilist of the world, tonight occupied a cell in the county jail, due to his failure to furnish a $30,000 bond for release on a charge of violating the Mann act.

Mr. Johnson, who was arrested in this afternoon, had been hiding in a barn for three weeks. She was held under $5000 bond and also was reminded.

"I fought for bond, Johnson shed tears, pleaded, offered cash bond in almost any amount and employed two attorneys to obtain his release.

"Bill" McDonald on Way Home

President-Elect Wilson's Farewell to Texas Impressive—Still Silent on Administration Policy.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 8.—President-elect Woodrow Wilson intends to follow out his "listening" policy for several weeks before making any announcement of important matters of state.

The president-elect said tonight he had decided to go away next week on a vacation of three or four weeks, out of reach of political callers. The place where he will go will be announced later. It is probable he will make known very little about his administration policy before Jan. 1.

An incident of the day at the Wilson home was the parting of the president-elect with Capt. Bill McDonald, Texas ranger and bodyguard of the last few weeks.

"I formed an affectionate regard for him," said Mr. Wilson. "He has a combination of shrewd sense and simplicity of character that is very rare these days."

The captain left for Kewanna, near Fort Worth.

TEXAS BAPTISTS ENDOW SCHOOL

OVER $100,000 IS RAISED FOR THE THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY IN

DR. CARROLL'S APPEAL

STANDING IN DAWN, MAKES HIS LAST REQUEST.

TO HIS CHURCH ASSOCIATES

Dr. Edgar Young Mullins of Louisville, a Texas Transplanted, Makes Earnest Address to Convention.

Fort Worth, Nov. 8.—Within ten minutes Friday morning $15,000 had been pledged toward the $100,000 endowment fund for the Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary in Fort Worth. The money was pledged after Dr. B. H. Carroll, head of the seminary, had addressed the Baptist general convention of Texas, now in session here.

Dr. Carroll, reverent and unafraid, stood upon the platform and directed the attention of the 3000 persons who crowded the First Methodist church toward the approaching sunset of his life and said his great wish was to see the seminary on a firm basis before his death.

When he asked those who were willing to line up with him in the fight to rise, the response was unanimous.

Dr. L. R. Scarborough made the first announcement of a pledge when he said the faculty and students of the institution had agreed to raise $15,000 and Dr. M. C. McConnell announced that the 400 state missionaries of the convention had agreed to raise $100,000, devoting all their time to the work.

Rival President Gives $100.

Dr. Edgar Young Mullins of the Southern Baptist Theological seminary of Louisville, Ky., gave evidence of the good feeling that he wishes to exist between the two similar schools when he pledged himself to give $100 to the endowment, expressing regret that he was too late to give the first money toward it.

Dr. Mullins is a Texan. His father was for many years pastor of the Baptist church at Corsicana, and the man who is now president of the Southern Baptist Seminary at Louisville was the first graduate of the Agricultural and Mechanical college of Texas.

The afternoon session was devoted to the work of the education boards.

Morning Session.

The morning session of the convention opened with the usual zeal and spiritedness characteristic of this great body of men. Dr. P. C. McConnell, the official secretary of the convention, was called upon to pray and responded in a most earnest and appropriate petition for divine guidance for the session.

Dr. Mullins delivered a message of congratulation for nineteen Texas preachers who are taking a course of study in the seminary. Seventeen of these men are being helped by the seminary, hence the board of education of Texas agreed to pay $1000 this year to provide in part for the support of those preachers who are being helped by the Kentucky institution.

"The supremacy of the pastorate must bring about a more effective method of unity and co-operation of all religious schools of our denominations," he said. "The success, therefore, of all our schools depends on the pastors of our country. How can we expect our pastors to succeed unless they be given a liberal education?
Our modern Christianity is guilty of triviality. The trouble is we do not make plans large enough for God to get into them. When was it that Jesus said, 'no, all power is given in heaven and earth?' It was in connection with the command to go into all the world and preach the Gospel."

"Jesus is a lion tamer. He did not come into the world to catch rabbits or sparrows. The teaching ideal in all our work must be to preach and teach. This is the ideal of the pastorate. It would keep pace with the ongoing of the kingdom of God.
We must train men to teach as well as to preach. If a man thinks God's thoughts he must think in planets."

At this point the speaker mentioned

HOTEL BONUS IS TO BE INCREASED

TWO COMMERCIAL ORGANIZA-TIONS ARE TO UNITE IN RAISING FULL AMOUNT.

WILL GIVE $50,000 IN CASH

To the People Who Will Build a Hotel That Will Equal the Needs of the City.

A bonus of $50,000 will be raised immediately by the Young Men's Business League and the Waco Business Men's Club to secure a modern hotel for Waco.

This action was decided upon at a joint meeting of the two organizations yesterday. Plans for raising the fund were left with a committee appointed from both the organizations. This committee is to be assisted by the president and secretary of each organization.

Both of the commercial organizations are ready to put their shoulders to the wheel to build a creditable hotel in Waco. They will ask the cooperation of every business man and merchant, and immediately upon raising the $50,000 the two organizations will stand ready to do business with the best proposition offered to overcome the hotel question.

It is believed by the men behind the movement that with $50,000 to offer as an inducement, capital in the sum of a half million can be interested in a Waco hotel. With this amount the business men say a modern structure, sufficiently large to accommodate the immense amount of transient and home trade can be erected.

Those present at the joint session were E. W. Marshall, John F. Wright, presidents respectively of the Waco Business Men's Club and the Young Men's Business League; S. M. Mc-Arthur, R. T. Donnan, Will Leacy, Peyton Handley, Frank J. Trau, W. V.
Crawford, A. D. Adams, C. B. McCollins, Lee R. Davis, Louis Mikel, H.
Hagedorn Jr., Frank Miller, Joe Sanger, Crate Dalton, I. Friedlander, J. R.
Milam and E. P. Driede.

It was the unanimous opinion of these men, all of whom are interested in Waco financially, that the city is in the need of a hotel with sufficient capacity to care for the public.
The hotel proposition for Waco is no new one. A campaign was started some time ago and $30,000 was raised to erect a hotel, but the money was insufficient capital to erect a modern ten-story structure.

MOB LYNCHES MAN ACCUSED

and Father-in-Law.

Steele, N. D., Nov. 8.—George Baker, charged with the murder of his wife and father-in-law, Thomas Glass, was taken from the "kiddie" county jail early today and lynched. It is the first lynching in North Dakota within a decade.

One week ago today Baker returned from California where he had been living, and whence his wife had preceded him by about two weeks, to Dawson, N. D. He entered the home of Mr. Glass and killed both his wife and father-in-law. The shooting was the result of family trouble.

dent, has been indefinitely postponed.

It was learned tonight that Chair-the right of Mr. Sherman's death, sent telegrams today to all members of the committee notifying them that the meeting would not take place. There was no explanation of the postponement.

TRAIN BANDIT KILLED

COMPANION OF DEAD MAN ES-CAPES WITH REGISTERED MAIL.

Two Robbers Hold Up Train—Plucky Brakeman Responsible for One's Death—Passengers Unmolested.

Redding, Cal., Nov. 8.—The northbound Shasta Limited, the Southern Pacific coast train de luxe, was held up and robbed and one bandit was killed at Delta, 30 miles north of here tonight.

A companion of the dead bandit escaped with the registered mail. None of the passengers was injured.

A plucky brakeman nearly frustrated the robbers and accounted for the man killed.

The train stopped at Delta for water and two bandits came aboard.
One climbed over the tender and covered the engineer and fireman with a revolver. The other entered the mail car and held up the mail clerks.

A brakeman dropped the train, saw the extra man on the tender, and guessed the situation. He ran to the nearest store, got a rifle, and, returning, shot the robber who was in the tender.

The other bandit leaped at the sound of the shot and ran for the nearby hills, carrying the registered mail sack. He has a good chance of escaping.

POSSE SEARCHES FOR BANDITS

Dogs Fail to Follow Trail of Two Train Robbers—Held Up L. & N.
Mail Car.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 8.—With nearly a score of detectives and secret service men working on the case, no trace has yet been found of the bandits who robbed the Louisville & Nashville mail car near here early this morning. A reward of $1000 each has been offered for their arrest and conviction.

Mail Clerks Chamberlin and Hoover thought the amount secured was small, as the robbers missed the Birmingham pouch, upon which one of the clerks fell when they were ordered by the bandits to lie down.

The bandits left the train at Boyles, a suburb of Birmingham, and dogs were unable to catch the trail this morning.

Two scraps of torn overalls similar to those worn by the bandits were found on a fence near Boyles, which is so far the only clue obtained.

Springs.

Approves the Contract.

Austin, Nov. 8.—Governor Colquitt today approved the agreement allowing sixty days' option to the Philadelphia parties desiring to lease the Tuck iron foundry, the option being that they may lease the plant according to the terms set forth in the option and already detailed in these columns at any time within sixty days. They made an option payment of $1666.

LATE ELECTION RETURNS.

Detroit—Roosevelt and Governor-elect Ferris, democrat, sweet state.
The latter will have a republican lieutenant governor. It is probable rest of state ticket also will be republican.

Topeka, Kas.—Official count will be necessary to decide gubernatorial race. Arthur Clapper in lead by few votes.

San Francisco, Cal.—Roosevelt's plurality over Wilson in California stands at 711 late tonight. Returns yet incomplete.

Helena, Mont.—Latest returns from Montana do not disturb the lead of Wilson and democratic state candidates.

Seattle, Wash.—Lister, democrat for governor, has a lead of five small precincts yet to be heard from.

Chicago—Wilson's lead in Illinois certain.

Des Moines, Iowa—The lead of Governor Wilson over Colonel Roosevelt has increased.

Yankton, S. D.—Frank Bryne, republican, has been elected governor.

Boise Idaho—Idaho yet in doubtful column on its presidential vote.

HINT TO CHRISTMAS SHOPPERS.

Postmaster General Tells of Great Number of Losses.

Washington, Nov. 8.—In announcing that $4,500,000 worth of mail parcels, aggregating $13,000, would be sold at the annual auction sale, dead letter, Dec. 15, Postmaster General Hitchcock issued a note of warning of carelessness to all Christmas gift senders and parcel post shippers. He said that Mr. Hitchcock pointed out that during the year over 4,000 articles had escaped from the wrappers in the mail, about 500 of them being pieces of more or less valuable jewelry.

Former Legislator Arrested.

Los Angeles, Nov. 8.—Oliver Akin, who said he was principal of the public schools at Moore, Ok., and a former member of the Oklahoma legislature, was arrested here today on request of the Oklahoma authorities as a fugitive from justice. Akin is wanted on a charge of having obtained money under false pretenses.

Auto Tourists From North and South Texas to Meet Here This Morning—Program for Children.

Surpassing the expectations of the Cotton Palace officials, the attendance at the big exposition yesterday exceeded the ten thousand mark, there being 11,140 people on the ground during the day.

Besides adding materially to the vast throng at the grounds, Mart, Hico, Walnut Springs, Whitney, Riesel and Robertson county contributed largely to the parade that formed on Franklin street and marched to the Cotton Palace.

A special train from Mart brought a thousand citizens, including nearly every school child in the city. The train was virtually closed and every public school took a holiday in order to attend the Cotton Palace.

The attractions at the Cotton Palace were up to the standard maintained throughout the first week of the fair.

Modernism will prevail at the Cotton Palace today when the knights of the grip, the autoists and the good roads boosters mingle with the public school children. Following the program of the day, there will be something doing from the time the traveling men convene at the Metropole hotel and form a line to march to the Cotton Palace grounds until after the last whirl of the grand ball in the coliseum.

Anticipating the best day in the history of the Cotton Palace with the possible exception of Waco Day, this year, the officials have planned a grand entertainment for the jolly travelers, the owners of luxurious automobiles and the school road enthusiasts. And in so doing they have not forgotten to take care of the school children.

Perhaps the most important feature of the day's events will be the good roads conference held in the machinery hall in the afternoon. It will be attended by prominent men from all sections of the state.

The mutual relation existing between the good roads men and the automobile owners insures the attendance of these counties in the conference. The Waco Automobile Club expects every automobile in the county to participate in the afternoon parade and 300 machines are expected from outside these counties. Delegates will attend from every direction.

A jolly aggregation of traveling men from every section of the Southwest will add to the big day of events.
Undoubtedly traveling men's day has been advertised more than any other day of the Cotton Palace.

In addition to the many attractions throughout the week the blind orchestra from the institute for the blind at Austin will be here today to give an afternoon concert between 4 and 5 o'clock and an evening concert between 7 and 8.

MART COMES STRONG.

A Thousand Parade Through Streets from Depot to Palace.

Keeping step with music by the Waco band, nearly a thousand citizens of Mart marched through the streets of Waco yesterday afternoon to the Cotton Palace grounds. The proce-sion was ten blocks long and composed of a large number of the school children, followed by the various grades, until the procession was composed of young men and women.

The parade formed at the depot and traveled through the city to the Northern special arrived from Mart.
The children each wore a ribbon badge and "Mart Boosters" was inscribed on each of the ribbons. The line of march was down Fourth street to Austin and west on Austin to Eight and thence over the old route to the Cotton Palace grounds.

Thousands of citizens lined up on the streets to watch the Mart boosters parade. Smiles of greeting from the bright faces of the school kiddies made the Wacoans feel prouder than ever of the big Cotton Palace exposition that brings so many new faces to the city.

After arriving at the grounds the Mart delegation sought their own

More Live Stock Arrives for the Big

Several carloads of cattle and hogs arrived yesterday afternoon from Shreveport, La., to be placed on exhibition in connection with the live stock show at the Cotton Palace. The delay occasioned by the arrival of this stock was due to the fact that just ended at Shreveport.

Attention is drawn to this department because so many farmers are interested in developing a better breed of live stock. The exhibit pens receive the undivided attention of the livestock fanciers of Texas, and it has attracted many people to the exposition who would not otherwise have attended.

Prizes for Maskers.

Prizes aggregating $20 will be given away for the best masquerade costume worn in connection with the mystic crowning of King Oscar XIII. of Sazorb at the Young Men's Business league day at the Cotton Palace. Fifteen dollars will be awarded the winner, $10 the second and $5 will go to the third.

According to plans and preparations being made by the local association of boosters and town builders, November 13 will be the banner day of the big exposition.

Selecting November 13 as the date, electing thirteen attendants to the king, marching with a band of thirteen pieces and connecting thirteen with every portion of the program possible proved that the league is not superstitious.

Colored Dancers and Singers.

The same colored troupe of comedians who won so much applause from the Associated Advertising Clubs of America when the delegates attended the Dallas convention last year, made a trip to Waco, will entertain at the Coliseum Monday night under the auspices of the directors of the Cotton Palace.

The entertainment will be in the nature of a plantation jubilee, featuring with song hits, special dancing and cake-walking.

For the reason that the troupe has prepared for the entertainment for some time, it is expected to be much better than the one given when the Ad club was here.

ENTRIES FOR TRACK MEET.

Many Will Be Here to Compete for the Prizes.

• OPEN SESSION OF MOOSE.

National Director is Here to Visit the Local Lodge.

Featured by the address of National Director H. P. Rucker, who dealt with the purposes and intents of the organization, and with music between times and a Dutch supper at the close, the open session of the Local Order of Moose, held in the rooms of the organization on Austin avenue last evening, proved the most interesting of the organization has yet held.

Harry McDonough, E. Moore, R. Thompson and O. M. Kellogg sang during the evening, following the holding of the regular session of the lodge. Mr. Rucker's address was delivered to a house packed with members and visitors.

It is sold of the effort now being made by the order to raise more than $5,000,000, with which to build a great school at which the children of the members will be taught free of all charge, and a home for the aged and infirm members of the order, where they will be cared for free of charge. The plan of the latter is a group of cottages composing a Moose village. It is stated that 1000 acres of land will be secured for the school, which probably will be located in Indiana.

5 SELECTED FOR GUNMEN'S JURY

QUARTETTE CHARGED WITH ACTUAL KILLING OF ROSENTHAL FACE TRIAL.

PRISONERS APPEAR HOPEFUL

Faithlessly Dressed, They March into Court Room—Man Who Never Read of Crime Found.

New York, Nov. 8.—Five jurors for the trial of the four gunmen accused of the actual killing of Herman Rosenthal the gambler, had been chosen when the opening day's session of the trial adjourned this evening.

The four prisoners—"Dago Frank," "Whitney Lewis," "Lefty Louie" and "Gyp the Blood," were summoned before Justice Goff in extraordinary terms of the supreme court in the middle of the afternoon. Dressed faultily and holding their heads high, they walked briskly to their places without heeding spectators.

The men had been elected to be tried together and no objection coming from either side, the jury wheel was spun. The following selections had been accepted when court adjourned:

Juror No. 1—Wm. H. Montgomery, a buyer No. 2—Leo Kramer, real estate dealer; No. 3—Edwin Fisher, carpet designer; No. 4—Frederick J. Schalk, malt dealer; No. 5—Charles P. Huntington, architect.

It is believed the jury will be completed by noon tomorrow. A man who had never read of the Rosenthal murder was found in Joseph C. Hogue, wholesaler in wines.

"Take him," whispered "Dago Frank" to his lawyer, but the prosecutor employed a preemptory challenge.

There were renewed reports today that the four prisoners had requested the district attorney to allow them to escape a possible death penalty by pleading to second degree murder. Mr. Whitman declined to discuss the matter while counsel for the men declared they had proposed no negotiations for clemency, because they were innocent.

Democrats Will Delay Action at Short Session.

Washington, Nov. 8.—Little legislation, beyond usual appropriation bills, is expected during the short session of congress beginning three weeks from next Monday.

GRAND CHILDREN'S DANCE AT COTTON PALACE

Tonight the finale of first children's day will be a grand ensemble in the auditorium of the Cotton Palace for a children's ball. This will doubtless draw one of the record-breaking crowds of the Cotton Palace season, for old folks, no matter how old, enjoy seeing little ones have a good time. Mrs. R. S. Lazenby is at the helm. She is heralding the good news far and wide. How would it do for all the little ones who have fancy costumes at home, Indian suits, Scotch kilts, cowboy outfits, to put those on, and appear in the grand march? Have a children's carnival sure enough. The News is requested to announce no charge for the children anywhere, at gate or on the floor. This is a compliment from the Cotton Palace directors to the children of Waco and their visitors.

THE BACHELOR MAIDS PLAY WITH MISS NANCY LACY

Added to the regular game of the Bachelor Maids were several out of town visitors. Thus Miss Nancy Lacy contributed yet another social attraction to the stranger within our gates. In order to do this, an extra table was added by Miss Lacy for her game on Thursday afternoon. The leading score was made by Miss Frances Luedde and it was decided that the coming Thursday should find the club with Miss Marguerite Westbrock.

Those who received Miss Lacy's hospitality are: Misses Luedde, Marguerite Westbrock, Virginia Westbrock, Nettie May Wilkes, Marjorie Crawford, Monette Colgin, Lydia Clinton, Mary Glover, Minniebell Webb, Jefferies Green of Calvert, Rowena Strangis, Bell of West Virginia, Stella Lacy, Rosalie Sturgis; Mesdames J. W. Bass, Calhoun of Beaumont.

THE SOCIETY BALL COMES ON TUESDAY NIGHT

The Minuet over, the ball committee for the Cotton Palace, W. D. Lacy, Jr., E. C. McCollum and Langston Luedde, are now sending every one towards the most brilliant society event of the Cotton Palace season, the grand society ball. This will be conducted as strictly a society ball. The decorations, costumes and other details will be in keeping with the high standard of Waco social life. Aside from interesting society as a ball, this will demonstrate to the visitors that Waco is a social center. Therefore, since social life attracts residents, Waco must show that social life in its very best phase. This means that the society social must be attended to with the spirit of the occasion by attendance and dress. Already success is assured both for brilliancy, surprises in decoration and numbers. But each of these intervening days must carry even greater assurance. The Society Ball must fill the auditorium to overflowing with participants, and the arena to overflowing with spectators.

MRS. ROBERT COLEMAN HAS MAIDS AND MATRONS

The weekly game of the Maids and Matrons on Thursday afternoon assumed all the proportions of a special card flourish in that the hostess, Mrs. Robert Coleman of Bell's Hill, entertained in honor of Mrs. Perry Neal of Navasota. Sufficient guests for four extra tables were invited, several of these being visitors for the Cotton Palace. Flowers were used freely about the rooms, cut blossoms fringed with fern fronds. The refreshment feature was a salad plate. Mrs. W. J. Lincoln was named as the next hostess, and Mrs. Harvey McFletcher and Mrs. Frank Mann of Vernon, the prize takers. The trophies were a brass desk piece and one of the new tapestry trays. Mrs. Coleman's special invitations were extended to: Mesdames McRichey, William Early, J. D. Williamson, T. E. Jarman, Walter Lacy, James Riley, Merchant Colgin, Harold Shear, Mann of Vernon, and E. P. Carroll; Mesdames Carrie Neal of Navasota, Eddie May Riggins and Jimmie Riggins.

MISS NELL SUE WHITMAN TELLS STORY TODAY

As has been announced, the band concert this afternoon will give a program strictly for the children. This will doubtless attract all the little ones to the auditorium. Immediately after the music, the children will be told a story by Miss Nell Sue Whitman, who is just returned from studying this art in the East. Also, Miss Whitman made a name as a successful story teller at the Dallas Fair. She drew immense crowds each day. This will be her first story since her return to the Waco children. Mothers should remain and see that the children do the same, after they hear the band program.

This is an adjunct to the model library exhibit at the Cotton Palace. The Story Hour is a strong feature in public library work in Waco, and the story by Miss Whitman is intended to demonstrate its value to the mothers of this city as well as to the teachers and the mothers who will be today's visitors from surrounding communities.

HIGH NOON WEDDING AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Simply marked the church arrangements for the marriage of Miss Cora Tilley to Dr. Paul Murphy at high noon. Yet this arrangement was in such telling grace that when the bride and her matron of honor, Mrs. Horace Payne, took station, the animate picture was admired by every friend present. Invitations had been sent by Mr. and Mrs. George Tilley for this ceremony, where they gave in marriage their second daughter. Dr. Murphy had been a resident of this city several seasons, and has formed a circle of friends who gave demonstration of deep interest in this happy event of his life. Friends assembled, the organ under the touch of Professor Schimmelpenninck of Baylor University, where the bride studied, noted the arrival of the moment for Dr. F. C. McConnell, pastor of the church, to say the solemn words and to pronounce blessing upon this union of heart and hand between Cora Tilley and Paul Murphy. For the service there had been arranged an altar decoration of fern and palm, dashed in color by some of the season's cut flowers. The bride wore a costume of Bedford cord in blue, relieved by a suspicion of pink in her becoming hat. The matron of honor wore blue also. Her flowers were the season's chrysanthemums while the bouquet of the bride showed the typical bride's touch.

The service ended, Dr. and Mrs. Murphy drove immediately to the station and are now enjoying a honeymoon week in San Antonio. While they are changed in life's relations, they remain a part of their home circle of friends. Waco continues a place of residence. For the present they receive friends in the Murphy home on South third. And friends will lose no opportunity to extend nearly congratulations there. In the home of the parents there is an array of hand wedding gifts, those of intrinsic worth and those of sentiment.

The friends selected by Dr. Murphy to attend him in this sacred hour were Dr. Webb Walker of Fort Worth as best man, Dr. Stronberg, William Parsons and Bordeaux Boyd. Among the guests who came to the city especially to participate in this wedding service are: Mrs. B. L. Reade and son, of Temple; the Misses Loraine and Robbie MacCauley, Mrs. H. L. Marshall, Mrs. J. C. Reynolds, Mrs. J. W. Donaldson, Miss Anna H. Hays, of Moody; Miss Mary Willis of Lorena, Mrs. Carpenter of Clifton.

THE PRESIDENT'S REPORT FOR HOME ASSOCIATION

As has been reported, the annual meeting of the Home association has been held. As president, Mrs. Edward Rotan submitted the following report:

Since my report one year ago we have cared for 259 persons in the Home. A few of these were children committed to our care until permanent homes could be found. We held a tea, our annual Thanksgiving entertainment, at the Home in 1911 and found a very generous response. Some groceries and $170 in money was the donation and this assisted materially with the winter's work. Mrs. Julia Henry, who was elected treasurer at our annual meeting, found that she would be unable to serve, as did also Mrs. Boynton, who was elected secretary, so your president, empowered by the board, appointed Mrs. Marie Holway and Mrs. William McCall to assume the duties of these offices. It became necessary to call a special meeting of the association in the spring of this year to re-appoint our officers. Through the very generous gifts of money from friends of the Home and a tea held on the lawn of the Rotan home, we were able to do this and thus place our premises in good shape. Several times in the 20 years of this work, the way and means to accomplish our aims has seemed very dark. But when our wants were made known our friends and a generous public have never failed to respond. From last year we had $150 and from contributions sent otherwise to your president, $159. During the past summer we have averaged 23 persons each month, besides our matron and her two boys. We have been indebted to Mrs. W. P. Beaumont for a load of kindling and to George V. Rotan for four loads of kindling. The Geyser ice company supplied ice for the long, hot summer, to say nothing of preceding summers. Mr. Lacy sent us two loads of coal, which, in his annual gift for many years, Mr. Eugene Early sent us hay and chicken feed. Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Blinn remembered the Home with an Easter gift. Mansell's, Freeman's and Brown's markets have supplied meat three days of every week, and the help of our sex in our county, and may I add, 20 years of service to our Master who tells us, "Inasmuch as ye do it unto the least of these ye do it unto me."

KATE S. M. ROTAN, President.

The election places in charge of the Home for the coming year, president Mrs. Edward Rotan; vice presidents Mrs. S. Archonhold and Mrs. H. C. Black; secretary, Mrs. William McCall; and treasurer, Mrs. Marie Holway. Two directors were elected. These are Mrs. J. W. Hale and Mrs. Julia Henry, who with the officers compose the executive board of the Home association.

Suppose we all go out to the Cotton Palace today, fill our pocket with nickels and be a child again. It is children's day and the little folks have all their own way even to Kryn's band program. It will do us good to spend a whole happy day with the children. Not only our own children, but why not meet all the little ones from the rural schools and take them into our happy family?

The small boy is ready with his Thanksgiving menu. It begins with mince pie, and ends with miscellaneous pie, with pumpkin pie between. Upon Terrace Row there are two dog brothers, Mutt and Juf. They are patriotic dogs for they wear on their collars the Cotton Palace colors.

How many noticed the new wording in the Progress club invitations, "line of the clock"? They say there are parlors in private homes no more; they say all the pictures are banished from the walls of the up to date homes. And so on. Not one bit of it. Individuality is the key note of home living these days. Do what individuality tells you and thus make your home your own, not a copy of some other woman's. But, make it your study to furnish that home harmoniously.

Wasn't it a pleasing contrast from the Colonial Minuet to the Bohemian Bessie? How happy an arrangement that these should come on two successive nights! And these with the Indian dance intervening. Dancing is more and more regarded as an expression of a people's thoughts and temperament. The first dances ever given were the outpouring of an ancient people's sorrow and joy. We are going back to this idea, so that the Indian, the Colonial and the Bohemian, have been three opportunities to study this national characteristic as exposed through movements of the body.

In the meantime the hot water is gushing down from Bell's Hill. Oh, the joy of it, if the women get the soft artesian flow into their household faucets.

Why not let the flag fly out at Cameron Park during the Cotton Palace days? Every visitor who is in a private home is driven through Cameron park. Why not have it in gala dress as well as other portions of the city?

While the weather has been a decided factor in success or failure of the spirit of victory around the Cotton Palace is due to the spirit of co-operation which has come this season from every rank of Waco life. This shows the power of concentration and should teach a life lesson to all the women.

Have your eye on the alert for the overdriven animal and the lame animal during this two weeks of rush. The promoters of the Baby Show announce every party of encouragement. It is said emphatically in advance that not a judge will remain in the city ten minutes after the blue ribbons are placed. This for the balm upon the troubled waters of the irate mothers.

Asked and Answered About Correct Dress

B. M.—No, the Tuxedo Coat should never be worn where there are ladies present, except at very informal affairs in one's own family. The tail coat is the only proper one for formal functions. Watch fobs are permissible for the day, but they should never be worn with evening clothes. Relatively few well dressed men favor the fob, because it dangles obtrusively from the pocket and give one's waist a mussed appearance.

We Have Never Known a Better Day for Men to Buy Good Clothes

"Do you think it ever will get real cold down here?" asked a northerner of a native.

"Don't know, but it always has," was the response.

So—we can't tell, native born Texans can't tell just how soon the weather will switch; but men who are wise in regard to Texas weather always get their Winter clothing ahead of time.

We maintain and claim, by proof of service and satisfaction, that men who buy Suits and Overcoats here get a fuller measure of value and worth than may be had at a smaller or less experienced store.

We have ready now for Men, Suits and Overcoats in hundreds of patterns, from all wool materials, from— $15.00 to $35.00

100 Fine Suits at $20.00

Just a little surprise for today. Marked according to our "Lesser Profit Plan," they would cost at least $5.00 more in the ordinary manner of marking. Blue Serges, Grays, Browns and Fancy Mixtures; shown $20.00 in our big New Men's Section today.

JOY AND GRIEF.

It is interesting and not a little curious to observe the reassembling of ideas, the reshaping of sentiment and sympathy in public opinion as collected through the editorial pages of the nation's dailies concerning the results of Tuesday last. There are wide differences to be noted even among the leading newspapers of all-Wilson Texas, and, for the most part, the comment is clear, thoughtful and worth reading.

Chiefly, it is brisk entertainment to read the divergent views of Texas press on the proposition that Texas is, or is not, responsible for the election of Dr. Wilson more than any other factor and (some declaim) even wholly responsible. It is pointed out that Texas adhered to Wilson in spite of determined opposition within its bounds, the advocacy of the "old guard" of Texas Democracy for Governor Harmon of Ohio, and some support for Champ Clark; that Wilsonites choked-off all opposition at the Houston convention and the Texas delegation continued to yell lustily for the New Jersey man, even when his boom waned at Baltimore, stemming the retreating tide of sentiment in his favor.

There is much meat in that argument, especially when backed up by the contention now wide-spread: that the creation of the Bull Moose party irrevocably split the Republican strength and removed every chance for the Republicans to return Mr. Taft and the Progressives to win for Mr. Roosevelt. If that be true, then Dr. Wilson does owe his triumph to Texas, in the light of Baltimore happenings, for those who say that neither Taft nor Roosevelt could win say further that any good Democrat could have won in view of the split opposition: Harmon, Clark, Underwood, Marshall, perhaps Gaynor or Dix. In other words, Wilson personally owes his election to Texas, although the Democracy may not owe its victory to Texas (if "any good Democrat could have won.") And in support of such a position, viewed from a certain angle, is Mr. Colquitt's latest statement that the divided Republican vote insured from the start the election of the Democratic nominee and had there been no split Mr. Taft would have been re-elected—this to be gauged by combining the Taft and Roosevelt votes.

At this writing the tone of the Texas press is, of course, wholly happy, optimistic and congratulatory, regardless of pre-convention preferences for any Democrat. And at this writing, too, the bulk of the opposition papers have not appeared in Texas. Kansas City, Republican journals, in effect, regard the result as "the less of two evils." Roosevelt, of course, being the greater of those same evils. Baltimore, Chicago and Philadelphia Progressive press resumes shouting the slogan of "on with the battle," rather inconsistently stressing the Colonel's eleventh-hour "hedge" that he did not expect to win, and fortifying their editorials with his statement on election night that the new party will go on to ultimate victory. The latter position it is fitting that the Bull Moose organs assume.

All in all, it is pleasing to be able truthfully to epitomize the nation's printed survey of November 5 doing that there is a hearty note of confidence in the president-elect, a tribute to his personality and ability and to the campaign he made, clean and high-planned.

Meanwhile, although more than the Democracy of the nation has not agreed, and will not agree, with the statement of the Governor of Texas that "Mr. Taft has made the country a good president," the Governor is commended for possessing the courage of his convictions in this tribute to Mr. Taft.

Yes, that's true; quite as true in this day and generation as it was when the poet depised of our school days voiced the cynicism, commentary on the feminine mind, the feminine heart and nature. "Different ever, changeable always, the woman."

But that all is reminiscent. Changeable ever, changeable still, but what a change, what a difference! Not in nature, not in tact, but in place. There's the change that will shape our ends, our tricks, our politics, our business, our ideals and our viewpoint. Or suffrage or the denial thereof, she is our equal in all, our superior in most, our teacher in much. "Remington," says Hubbard, "discovered woman." "Edison," replied the writer, "immortalized her." We speak with a forked tongue, Hubbard and I, for it was woman discovered man, made man, blessed man, gives him the only worthwhileness he is capable of—

Genesis and the Indian to the contrary notwithstanding. She has taken the lead in thought and in action along lines that count, and we are not broad enough to admit it. Hers is the greater influence, hers the greater power for good; hers is the charity, hers the civic and social reforms; hers the quicker thought, for hers is the surer impulse. That is not a paradox. Her impulses are not devoid of thought. She merely skips nine out of ten mental stages the man must lumber over to reach the same conclusion. True, the man's conclusion and thought may be more stable, but, good heavens, man! this is the age of rapid transit! Hers is the home, the care of the young, of the poor and the fallen. Hers is the ballot only within scant bounds and absurd limitations.

We tell you the woman should have the ballot everywhere, under all circumstances, within the requirements of literacy and sanity. She is man's mental equal (we are complimenting man in making this a parity, rather than a comparison!) Literacy? Yes, for we believe there should be a literacy test of suffrage universally—in Texas first. This is the age of type, of thought in type. Even were it not, how many illiterates are able really to understand the utterances of the man asking their franchise? Literacy now—then away with the man who buys the ignorant vote and the corrupt! This is the age of reading; the rule of reason, of thought. This is the age of demand for the honest ballot, and the honest ballot is impossible in the hands of the ignorant voter. We know there are exceptions—but suffrage demands a rule, a strict and clean rule of honesty and reasoning power.

"Sir," said Dr. Samuel Johnson, "Sir a woman's talking is like a dog walking on its hind legs; it is not well done, but you are surprised to find it done at all!"

Rest in peace, our old grouch of Queen Anne's stilted reign. A single sentence in one of Lady Mary Montagu's fine letters is worth six of your dictionaries and twelve Boswellian bores. Tempus has fled with a vengeance and your descendants are now getting theirs in the silk tile somewhere in the vicinity of Westminster Street.

You won't believe it, but this started to be congratulatory; a tribute to the women's parade in this city Wednesday and to Woman's Day at the Cotton Palace. The parade was a notable opportunity for the average citizen to learn of the factors obtaining for the community the best service and the best results in government, in the school, the church and the home. The exhibit at the Palace is a splendid token of the comforts, enterprise and skill without which the home and the shop are barren. Success to it, and to the women's organizations of Waco.

Where Shot Was Thickest.

The general public did not know until the automobile accident this week, that Capt. Bill McDonald—our very own Captain Bill—had been the immediate body guard of Governor Woodrow Wilson during the past campaign.—Colorado Record.

This first opportunity of Body Guard Bill to guard Woody's body found Bill bumping heads with the Bull Moose destroyer while the tonneau tipped trickily. So "the general public" doesn't know it yet.

Cursing Our Blessings.

It may be all right for some newspapers to quote the scriptures, but nine chances to one the quotation is entirely inappropriate.—Palestine Record.

A bit unfraternal that, to say the least. It would seem to deny that you can read a better sermon at 6

Look Within!

The Fort Worth Record thinks it is a pretty good thing that prosperity which men can not be hired to act as election officials. Huh! Down this way they don't even want to serve on the juries.—Houston Post.

If Harris county's records are to be believed, about the only role some Houstonites are unwilling to fill in court is that of jurymen. We suggest the box would be preferable to the stand, or the cage.

Spare Our Blushes.

And now comes a prominent actress who declares that milk is the best hair tonic. Possibly so, but we would rather go baldheaded than eat our oatmeal dry.—Dallas News.

Recalling that press agent's yarn concerning Mlle. Anna's champagne bath benefits, what has Dallas News to offer concerning the scrubbing of the human corpus?

So There!

The political yell of the suffragettes is described by its critics as a speech Houston Chronicle.

How True.

There is nothing so obvious as that the day of the polysyllabic profundity of the politician is passing.—State Press, Galveston News.

Is Waverly Briggs writing State Press now? There is a familiar swing to such vivacious veracity and attractive eliteration as the above. The comment epitomizes the propriety of an undeniably desirable order of things and chants the requiem of a distressing cycle throughout which circumlocution conceals too oft' masqueraded as forensic fervor and statesmanlike antitheses.

SAM SOLINSKY'S BOAST.

He Believes Beaumont Is the Best Town On the Map.

Sam S. Solinsky isn't going to let anybody forget that Beaumont, a small city on the coast, is on the map; he has distributed Beaumont literature, Beaumont buttons and Beaumont hats all over Waco and he's still at it. He says that Beaumont is the best town in Texas outside of Waco, and the reason he says this is because he is in Waco and he's afraid to make it stronger. He admits it.

The Beaumont is going to "pull off the biggest celebration ever attempted by a Texas town, which will cost between $50,000 and $100,000, and will contain more free attractions of high class than the largest state of the union," were statements made by Mr. Solinsky yesterday.

That property is increasing in value in Beaumont almost as rapidly as when the greatest oil fields in Texas were discovered at Spindletop, near Beaumont, is a statement made by the secretary yesterday. He says Beaumont does not ask that people take what they hear as a fact, but that every man who can prove that he is a bona fide settler, looking for a home town, can get to Beaumont by merely writing T. W. Larkin, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Beaumont, and asking that transportation be forwarded.

AMERICAN BALLOONIST SOUGHT.

Friends of John Watts of Kansas City Fear He May Be Arrested.

Kansas City, Nov. 8.—Friends of John Watts of Kansas City, pilot of the balloon Dusseldorf II, in the international James Gordon Bennett trophy race, began are in a panic. Since he started in the race a week ago last Sunday only one message, a cablegram of four words, was received from him. It announced simply that he and his aide, Arthur T. Atherholt, of Philadelphia, were in Mexico. He said that they were safe and free. The cablegram was received by George Meyers, president of the Kansas City Aero club last Sunday.

Mr. Meyers believes the two aeronauts have been arrested by Russian officials who mistook them for spies.

"Watts was to cable me full particulars of his flight," Mr. Meyers said last night, "and I believe he is either in prison or ill in a hospital."

The American embassy at St. Petersburg and the American legation at Stockholm and Copenhagen have been asked to aid in locating the missing men.

MANDOT TO FIGHT RIVERS.

New Orleans Lad Who Made Good Showing Leaves For West.

New Orleans, Nov. 8.—Joe Mandot the local lightweight who fought a ten round no decision bout with Ad Wolgast and a majority of the newspapers gave him the decision, left last night for Los Angeles where on Thanksgiving day he will again meet Joe Rivers in a twenty round bout. Last Labor Day he was given the decision over Rivers at Los Angeles in a fight of the same number of rounds.

Football at Houston.

Houston, Nov. 8.—The deepest interest is being manifested in the two big gridiron contests for the coming week. Monday the A. and M. of Texas and Oklahoma will clash and Wednesday it will be Texas and Mississippi. A feature of Monday's game will be the presence of the entire college football faculty of Texas and M. The cadets also will be an important addition to the monster parade that will feature the opening of the carnival.

15 Mexican Prisoners Escape.

Chihuahua, Mexico, Nov. 8.—It was learned yesterday that fifteen Mexican prisoners escaped from a prison here yesterday. The escapees were a party of twenty and the men escaped unnoticed in the crowds, owing to lack of a prison guard. The authorities attach no importance to the episode, but are making a search to catch the escapees in order to prevent them from joining revolutionary bands.

GOOD ROADS DAY AT COTTON PALACE

MANY AUTOMOBILE PEOPLE ARE TO BE HERE FROM NORTH AND SOUTH TEXAS.

SEVERAL GOOD SPEAKERS

Interesting Program Has Been Arranged for the Big Affair—All Auto People Invited.

This is Good Roads Day and Automobile Day at the Cotton Palace.

Automobile owners are urged to take part in entertaining the visitors and making the day a success. A big gathering of visitors is assured.

Already visitors are arriving for Good Roads Day, and the Waco Automobile club has about perfected plans for the entertainment of visitors and local automobilists.

Letters have been received from Geo. W. Baker, captain of the North Texas division, and D. E. Colp, captain of the South Texas division, and each one promises a large party, and the rivalry will be keen as to which side will win the loving cup.

An effort has been made to reach people in this very subject. Farmers say it is just the thing they have been looking for, and I can understand their interest, for well do I remember when as a farmer boy I used to drive into the county seat of a North Texas county with our car for the first time.

1 p. m.—Grand automobile parade; form at State House, backing up Franklin street and proceeding down Franklin street, the usual route of parades.

2 p. m.—General Good Roads meeting at University of Texas assembly hall in Machinery building on Cotton Palace grounds.

Judge Tom McCullough, Judge O. E. L. Marshall, Texas, Col. E. W. Kirkpatrick, McKinney, Texas, R. D. Marshall, superintendent of the public highways, department of agriculture; Prof. R. J. Potts, state highway engineer.

Hon. J. W. Warren, president of the Good Roads association, will preside at the meeting.

Following these addresses there will be a conference of those interested in the proposed public highway from the Red river to the Gulf.

All citizens and visitors are requested and urged to have their automobiles in the great auto parade, which will move promptly at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, and remain in parade until the very last.

All persons interested in the subject of improved highways are requested and urged to attend the meeting which will be held in the Machinery hall in the Cotton Palace grounds beginning at 2 o'clock. The speakers will be of the highest caliber and without doubt the most eloquent and practical exponents of improved highways in Texas, and their addresses will be of invaluable aid to those who are interested in the great question.

It is confidently expected that there will be four hundred automobiles on the occasion of this meeting, and the local automobilists in particular and the Waco people in general, are urged to join and give the visitors the most cordial reception.

The committee is: Dr. J. W. Hale, president; M. Faulkner, W. W. Seley, T. A. Caulfield.

Bexar County Coming. The Bexar County Highway League Division of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce will represent Bexar at the Cotton Palace today. Among those who will arrive are John W. Warren, president of the Bexar County Highway League; Secretary D. E. Colp, Hall P. Street, former president of the Texas Realty association, and George D. Marshall, with the state highway engineer connected with the Department of Agriculture, who is conducting a survey for a main highway from San Antonio to Bexar and to Waco.

Incident to the automobile and good roads day programme, Mrs. Marshall, who will sing at the college during the time the good roads boosters are at the Cotton Palace grounds.

W. H. Wernor and Charles G. Norton, publicity secretary of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce, will also accompany the Alamo City visitors to Waco.

According to reports the San Antonio good roads boosters have been actively waging a campaign for improvement of the highways by holding meetings at the smaller towns between here and Bexar, Blanco and Marble Falls, and Secretary Norton reports an excellent attendance at all of the meetings, and was especially impressed with the interest manifested by the farmers.

The San Antonio visitors will arrive at 10 o'clock for the big parade. They are traveling purely to stimulate interest in the good roads movement in Southwestern and Central Texas.

TALK ON COTTON CLASSING.

Every Farmer Should Know How To Grade It.

C. M. Evans, superintendent of the extension department of the A. & M. College of Texas, made an exhibit yesterday at the college exhibit or cotton classing.

Every farmer, one of the most interesting, instructive and important exhibits and demonstrations we have made at the Cotton Palace this year is that of cotton classing. We are showing the standard samples of cotton grades adopted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The people who pass through our exhibit hall pay no attention whatsoever to these cotton samples, which to the ordinary eye present nothing interesting, but every day this week we are interviewed by several hundred interested people on this very subject. Farmers say it is just the thing they have been looking for, and I can understand their interest, for well do I remember when as a farmer boy I used to drive into the county seat of a North Texas county with our car for the first time.

1 p. m.—Grand automobile parade; form at State House, backing up Franklin street and proceeding down Franklin street, the usual route of parades.

2 p. m.—General Good Roads meeting at University of Texas assembly hall in Machinery building on Cotton Palace grounds.

Judge Tom McCullough, Judge O. E. L. Marshall, Texas, Col. E. W. Kirkpatrick, McKinney, Texas, R. D. Marshall, superintendent of the public highways, department of agriculture; Prof. R. J. Potts, state highway engineer.

Hon. J. W. Warren, president of the Good Roads association, will preside at the meeting.

Following these addresses there will be a conference of those interested in the proposed public highway from the Red river to the Gulf.

All citizens and visitors are requested and urged to have their automobiles in the great auto parade, which will move promptly at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, and remain in parade until the very last.

All persons interested in the subject of improved highways are requested and urged to attend the meeting which will be held in the Machinery hall in the Cotton Palace grounds beginning at 2 o'clock. The speakers will be of the highest caliber and without doubt the most eloquent and practical exponents of improved highways in Texas, and their addresses will be of invaluable aid to those who are interested in the great question.

It is confidently expected that there will be four hundred automobiles on the occasion of this meeting, and the local automobilists in particular and the Waco people in general, are urged to join and give the visitors the most cordial reception.

The committee is: Dr. J. W. Hale, president; M. Faulkner, W. W. Seley, T. A. Caulfield.

Bexar County Coming. The Bexar County Highway League Division of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce will represent Bexar at the Cotton Palace today. Among those who will arrive are John W. Warren, president of the Bexar County Highway League; Secretary D. E. Colp, Hall P. Street, former president of the Texas Realty association, and George D. Marshall, with the state highway engineer connected with the Department of Agriculture, who is conducting a survey for a main highway from San Antonio to Bexar and to Waco.

Incident to the automobile and good roads day programme, Mrs. Marshall, who will sing at the college during the time the good roads boosters are at the Cotton Palace grounds.

W. H. Wernor and Charles G. Norton, publicity secretary of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce, will also accompany the Alamo City visitors to Waco.

According to reports the San Antonio good roads boosters have been actively waging a campaign for improvement of the highways by holding meetings at the smaller towns between here and Bexar, Blanco and Marble Falls, and Secretary Norton reports an excellent attendance at all of the meetings, and was especially impressed with the interest manifested by the farmers.

The San Antonio visitors will arrive at 10 o'clock for the big parade. They are traveling purely to stimulate interest in the good roads movement in Southwestern and Central Texas.

FUGITIVE IS CAUGHT HERE.

Mexican Wanted in Corpus Christi Is Under Arrest.
Charged with a murder committed two years ago at Corpus Christi, and said to have hidden himself on the bosom of the bay in an open boat for thirty days after the killing. Ambrosio Olivares, a Mexican, was placed under arrest yesterday morning by Constable Leslie Stegall and Deputy

Constable E. H. Smith. He was found in a small cottage on North First street, living with his wife and family.
He reached Waco only five or six days ago, coming here from Port Worth.

It was following a talk with Sheriff Wright at Corpus Christi over the telephone, when he was given a description of the man wanted, whom the authorities there had traced to Waco, that the officers began their search. Olivares was located within 24 hours and filled the description except for the fact that he had shaved off his mustache.

After being arrested the man admitted that he was wanted at Corpus Christi for the offense and the officers lodged him in jail and telegraphed the sheriff and the latter will come to Waco today to take prisoner back.

The man killed was a wealthy Mexican.
It is stated that he was stabbed fourteen times.

Fleeing from the officers, the man who did the deed took a novel method of keeping his whereabouts a secret, taking and open boat and going out into the bay, where he remained, ostensibly fishing, for thirty days. Under cover of darkness he rowed to the shore, it is said, and secured provisions and water from friends, staying near the shore, however, only long enough to get the necessary provisions.

Polo Ponies Bring Big Prices.

San Francisco, Nov. 8.—Titled British polo players enamored of the California ponies they saw in action here last season have purchased thirteen high priced mounts for use in the east and in England. Harry Hastings, one of the crack Hillsborough players, cashed from London that he had sold ten ponies at big prices. Richard Tobin, another member of the Hillsborough millionaire colony, announced yesterday that he had sold three of his ponies for use on eastern fields at from $2,000 to $3,000 each.

PEDDLERS ON PLAZA

COMMISSION DECLINES TO ALLOW SALES ON SQUARE EXCEPT TO FARMERS.

Protecting Home Merchants—Mayor Hopes to Have a City Market Here.
North Fifth Street Paving.

A discussion participated in by the commissioners, representatives of the savings company and representatives of the Southern Traction Company, and a lengthy discussion as to the right of persons not producers to occupy space on the city hall square, and sell farm products, were the two features of the session of the city commission yesterday morning.

A definite decision to bar from the square all who do not raise the products which they offer for sale for the protection of the Waco and McLennan county tax payers, was reached by the commissioners and a petition, signed by a number of citizens, and asking that the square be considered an open mart, presented by T. M. Hamilton, was denied by the commissioners.

A fear that the Southern Traction company would not be ready with rails to go down on the North Fifth street line, was the cause of the conference between Allan D. Sanford, S. P. Ross and Mr. Lackey of the Texas Fertilizer Co. and the members of the commission. The traction company, it was stated, expected to have its rails here within three weeks. The savings company declared that its force will not be ready for the rails before that time, but that by then they will be needed and the work will be retarded if they are not here on time.

C. H. Preston was awarded the contract for the construction of a cement culvert on Columbus street near Eighteenth, the contract price being $425.

Presenting a petition signed by a number of merchants and bankers of Waco asking that the square hereafter be considered an open mart in which all might trade in farm products, and requesting that the east side be given over to vegetable wagons, Tom M. Hamilton appeared before the commissioners and the case was discussed at length.

Mayor Mackey, in declaring against the measure, said that he thought it would not be long before the city would erect handsome new quarters for its officials and that a market house was only a question of time.
The mayor said he was heartily in favor of the erection of a commodious market house just as soon as the city is in a position to do so, and he felt that the time is drawing near.

Mr. Hamilton said that competition in the sale of vegetables on the square would be of benefit to the people of Waco and that the best way to get competition is to make the square free to every man for the sale of his farm products.

Mayor Mackey then stated that it was not the desire of the commissioners to bar any citizen of McLennan county from selling the products of his farm on the square, but that the commission did not believe in allowing outsiders who pay little or no taxes here, to buy up wagon loads of produce as they come to town and do a brokerage business on the square in competition with the merchants about them who pay taxes in Waco and the county.

Mr. Hamilton then claimed that the commission seemed to be discriminating, that the class of people whom he represented alone were denied the right to sell their wares in the public square.

Commissioners Wright, Gorman, Cantfield and Littlefield all spoke briefly but pointedly along the same line of the mayor's argument and declared that they would not permit outsiders to come here and without a cent's cost to themselves enter actively in competition with the tax-paying merchants of the city and the county, but that the producer of the crops were always welcome to make their sales on the square if they so desired.

Mr. Hamilton then explained that he had several cases in court in which the defendants were charged with selling goods on the square in violation of the law, and that Judge Wren had held them up for the time being pending the decision of the commissioners.
A vote was then taken and the petition was denied.

A warrant was ordered drawn for $500.00 in favor of Brainerd and Campbell contractors, for work on the Bell Building fire station.

A warrant was ordered drawn for $2,152.36 in favor of Hassan paying on Seventh between Austin and Mary streets.

An ordinance, under suspension of the rules, was passed requiring the laying of sidewalks on North Fourteenth street, between Jefferson and Morrow.

Also under suspension of the rules, an ordinance was passed authorizing the grading of North Fourteenth street between Jefferson and Morrow.

"QUAKER GIRL" IS BRIGHT

As Usual, Monckton's Music Is Dainty But, Exceptionally, It Is Not Well Sung.

At the Auditorium:
"The Quaker Girl," a three-act play, both musical and good-natured, by J.
T. Tanner, (book) Lionel Monckton, (music) Adrian Ross and Percy Greenbank (lyrics); presenting the agreeably effervescent Victor Morley, the dainty Miss Natalie Alt and a comedian who deserves special mention for his painfully acute resenblance to Elbert Hubbard.

The cast:
Jorge Harold Thomas
Mrs. Lukyn Helen Mercer
William E. F. Hart Nathaniel Pym Harriet Gray Rachel Pym Harriet Gray Phoebe Lesser
Mathilde Ella Furry
Captain Charles Murray Stephen Madam Blum Andree Corday Tony Chute Victor Morley Jeremiah William Friend Prudence Natalie Alt Tollett Ella Furry
Monsieur Larose William Friend
Diane Teodora de Capet Prince Carlo Phil J. Moore
Monsieur Duhamel Geo. R. Caine

A lady sitting nearby, and disposed to hold up her end of the usual audience Grecian chorus, remarked that "The Quaker Girl" isn't to be compared with "The Balkan Princess." It isn't; but Madame didn't mean what this critic means, for the play that attracted and pleased a standing-room audience last night is bright, dainty and clean-cut. That was to be expected. Lionel Monckton demonstrated his excellence as composer of real music, and occasionally of a score deserving of the classification "operetta," some several years ago.
This "girl" work of his is by no means operetta, but it's music, a change and a relief from the accustomed diet.

There is an English village scene and there are two Parisian settings.
Except for a brief near-balleting in the last act by two attractive young dancers, there is no occasion for miniature skirts; there are no catwhirls. The staging is chosen with an eye to harmony rather than an ambition for gliding and looms well.
There is an occasional flash of genuine wit in the part assigned to Mr.
Morley, who continues to be his tall, slender, personable self and who makes any act lively. There is no vulgarity, little slang and no theft of brilliancy from other musical potpourri. At intervals the catchy, jingly music is reminiscent of "Belle of Mayfair," but not staidly so, and the more sedate music is original and good. Miss Alt, in the name part, is one of those "pretty with a wit and witty to talk with and pleasant, too, to think on" girls of Buckling. Though decidedly more than ornamental (for she dances beautifully, her voice is sweetly sweet), Miss Furry has a voice of sorts, if the John Bullism may be pardoned, and Mr. Moore very nearly sings. He is given the principal and, in some respects, most deserving number of all the sixteen songs: "Come to The Ball." The "Dancing Lesson" by Mr. Morley and Miss Alt is clever and brisk, and Miss Alt's solo dance in the last act, "Tony From America," is of the same most graceful. Mr. Friend is the comedian whose first make-up (unconsciously it seems) recalls Mr.
Hubbard and he is otherwise an acceptable part of the cast. Miss Cor-day plays a French modiste with exceptional talent.

It is so pleasant to encounter music that has a little fresh air in it, to see pretty faces in normal costumes, gowns that are bright without flashiness, and a large chorus well and modestly trained, that "The Quaker Girl" stands out from the run of such performances. There is only a tinge of plot, some of the Quaker misses wear gold bracelets and an occasional diamond ring, but who thinks of such details in a play really musical?
The Auditorium management was well within bounds of fair treatment of the public in giving this attraction its personal endorsement. To be sure, railroad trains wait for no man on the rare occasions when the man is not obliged to wait for them, and some of the well-advertised songs and features were necessarily omitted or curtailed, but in every respect "The Quaker Girl" is worth while.

the importance of the social ideal and pleaded for social purity in every sphere of human life. Dr. Mullins' address was surprisingly brilliant, instructive and edifying.

B. W. Theological, Fort Worth.

Dr. L. R. Scarborough introduced the student body of the Southwestern Theological Seminary of Fort Worth.
They number 160 pupils. Dr. O. L.
Hally of Corsicana addressed the convention in the interest of the Southwestern Theological Seminary of Fort Worth. There will be projected a campaign to raise $500,000 for the endowment of the seminary. This is not a Texas institution exclusively, but it is expected that Texas will raise the largest part of this fund. The churches and pastors are asked to put themselves actively in sympathy. A motion was made to adopt the report, and Dr. B. H. Carroll, president of the seminary, was given an opportunity to present his report.

Report of Dr. Carroll.

Dr. Carroll spoke of the work done by the student body. Thirty-three graduates received diplomas this year.
This is perhaps the largest proportion of graduates to the actual student body of any college in the world. It is a remarkable achievement anyway.
Professors in the seminary delivered seven hundred and sixty sermons during the year. The student ministers were likewise active in the Master's service and during the year reported 3000 additions to the churches. The seminary is on a sound business basis does not hold any kind of unsafe collateral. Notes on hand amount to $190,475; secured notes $45,590; total amount of endowment fund $236,065.
A motion was made to adopt the report of Dr. Carroll and Dr. Scarborough spoke briefly to the report.
Dr. Scarborough said the seminary trustees asked the convention to endorse the campaign to raise $500,000 for the seminary and to extend the time for this work two years. He said in part:

"We ask for the right of way for this campaign over every other enterprise for two months. We want to enlist every Baptist in Texas in this campaign. There ought to be at least 125 rallies in the interest of this campaign, but it depends on the pastors of Texas to make these rallies successful."

Dr. Carroll arose, and, looking at the audience impressively, said:

"Many of you here today are standing in the dawn, while I am sitting in the shadows of the declining day. This work therefore must be assumed by the rising generation, and all of our great enterprises must be perpetuated through your fidelity to God and the interests that make for His glory. I speak to you this one more time in the interest of the seminary, because it is God's institution, and we you—are charged with its perpetuity.

"So looking, I have great peace, great hope and the sublime audacity of faith.

"If there is one thing burned into my heart it is to see before I pass away this seminary on a firm basis.

"I speak to you this one more time for this seminary. I'll tell you why.

"Because its establishment was of God. Because in this southwest enough who need training find training in any other seminary in the world.

"We must train them here, or a vast majority of them must go into the woods with dull axes.

"No other seminary in the world has made such progress. Texas strategic position makes it necessary that a mighty dynamo of power must be back of her spiritual leaders.

"We want a ministry with no loose views on the inspiration of God's word, one with a clear conception of the church, established by the Lord Jesus Christ; one that will not waver from the path by a hair's breadth; one that is characterized by the spirit.

"We want a ministry gentle, but manly.

Seminary's Power.

"The right kind of a seminary has a tremendous power in fitting out that kind of a ministry.

"In connection with the seminary, this training school for women workers will go up next year. That school will extend hands to help in spreading the knowledge of the Lord, not only in our own country, but afar."

He told of a trip through the Panhandle when he saw thousands of preachers with but little education and no library.

"I want to be in the movement; I want a place on the firing line," he said. "Stand by me this time, will you?"

"I at your bidding have fought a hundred campaigns for things not personal to me. You help me this time.
I want an expression from you, and ask you who are with us to stand."

Every person in the audience stood.

Report in Full.

The report in full follows:
"The convention rejoices in the fact that we have a great seminary at Louisville, Ky. We also rejoice that we have the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary at Fort Worth.
Our interest in the one in no sense diminishes our interest in the other.
We greatly need both these schools to train our young preachers and our missionaries and other workers. We are trusting these schools of the prophets to provide safe and sane instruction and training for the preachers who frequent their halls. For they will surely need it in the transition period that is already upon us.
That there is such a transition period taking place among men, the evidences in almost every quarter of human thought and activity leave us no room for doubt. This is the time for our schools and our denomination to be on their guard, and if our preachers shall not be wisely trained we are sure to be seriously hurt.

The Projected Campaign.

"The Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary is here asking for indorsement of this convention of a plan to raise $500,000 additional endowment in the next two years. Concerning this, there are some things to be said.

"The first is that we believe the seminary needs it, and ought to have it, as soon as it can be properly provided. And $500,000 is not too much to undertake.

"The second thing to be said is this: That this seminary, as it was projected and finally organized, is not distinctly a Texas institution, though it is located in the noble state of Texas.

"We therefore believe that any plan for an increase of the endowment should not be projected for Texas alone, and if $500,000 is the amount to be raised, Texas should be expected to supply only her reasonable proportion of it.

Texas Help Me.

"But Texas ought to be willing to supply the greater part of the contemplated increase in the endowment."

"The third thing to say is this: In planning the campaign for the increase of the endowment, very careful consideration and jealous regard should be had for all the other important features of our denominational work, so that none of it should be interrupted, nor our churches and pastors embarrassed by the multiplicity of urgent appeals.

"But the seminary believes, and we believe, that this campaign can be so conducted as not only not to interrupt any of our work, but will in fact strengthen and promote all the features of it.

"We should, therefore, ask all our churches and pastors to put themselves systematically into this campaign.

"The two years to be given to it should see Texas Baptists go and show in a splendid way.

Dr. Carroll Reports.

Dr. Carroll announced in his report that Dr. J. B. Gambrell had been secured to fill the chair of ecclesiology and denominational polity.

He praised the work done by Prof.
C. T. Ball of the seminary faculty in obtaining money for the current expenses of the school. He explained, in dealing with the financial condition of the seminary that the institution receives no income from tuition, and that it was forced to build its own street car line.

Faculty and Students Give.

Dr. Scarborough then announced that the students and faculty had agreed to put $15,000 into the endowment.

F. M. McConnell then announced the 400 state missionaries of the church would take up the work and guarantee $100,000 for the fund.

Both announcements were greeted by a storm of applause.

Dr. Mullins obtained recognition, too late to give the first $100 but he gave the amount.

"We're at the beginning now," said Dr. Scarborough, "and this is not the Afternoon Session.

The afternoon session of the convention began under very auspicious circumstances. The multitudes poured into basement, galleries and auditorium of the First Methodist church, where all meetings are being held, long before the hour that had been fixed for the meeting, the building overflowing by 1:30 p. m. The devotional services reminded one continually of Pentecostal times and tides. God's power is wonderfully displayed in all exercises. A stranger is always struck with the sweet fellowship displayed by the members of the convention. The great scholarship side by side with his humble and less fortunate brother, worships, prays, sings, weeps and sings in a spirit of the most beautiful filial affection.
It is glorious. Dr. Buckner took charge of the meeting at the close of the song service and called upon Rev. R.
White to pray. Dr. White responded in an appropriate and fervent petition. Dr. A. D. Sparkman then read the order of business.

Christian Education.

Dr. A. J. Barton, secretary of the Baptist Educational Board, spoke on the subject, "Christian Education." It was a heartening statement to the effect that the thirteen Baptist schools were growing and enjoying a high degree of prosperity. We have under consideration the raising of $200,000 for Baylor Female School at Belton.
Plans are in progress to raise $25,000 for Canadian College. Bryan Baptist Academy has made expensive and substantial improvements. The general condition of the schools is exceedingly encouraging but it was with a sad heart that the great secretary reported a large debt. However, it is hoped and expected that the deficit will be largely reduced before the closing of the convention. In fact, there are two financial items in sight at present, and should they materialize, they will decrease the debt and enable the board to go forward next year with an insignificant debt compared to those of past years. Dr. Barton reported $20,000 as having passed through his hands, although there was $52,000 that went direct to Baylor that must be credited to the Educational Board. We owe about $62,000.

Cash on hand about $8,000. The successful endowment of Baylor University makes her one of the strongest universities in the South.

Dr. Barton, having finished reading his report, presented Dr. J. C. Hardy, president of Baylor College, who spoke to the subject under consideration for twenty minutes. Dr. Hardy spoke zealously and with optimistic hope for the progress and development of the great Baptist schools.

Favors Woman Suffrage.

"I came to Texas to help build up a college for women that shall surpass in efficiency any other institution of the kind in the world," he said.
He also spoke of the future emanation of woman from political bondage and rejoiced in the hope that the near future would see woman with a ballot in her hand helping the church to bring in civic reform in state and nation. The Baptists are under obligation to build a great college for women at Belton and if not, you ought to go out of the school business. But you cannot build it out of debt, but it will take cash to do it."

To Remove General Offices.

Austin, Nov. 5.—It has been ascertained that the Gulf and Interstate Railroad is now endeavoring to remove its general offices from Port Bollivar across the bay to Galveston.

In fact, an amendment to its charter so providing has been drawn. Asst-ant General Attorney A. H. Culwell of the Santa Fe, which owns the road in question, was here today in conference with the attorney general and the railroad commission with regard to the filing of the amendment. There are legal questions involved concerning the proposed removal which may prove very interesting.

Under the statutes general offices of a railroad must be maintained on the railroad's line. The Gulf and Interstate, which uses a ferry across the bay from Port Bollivar to Galveston, owns no trackage on Galveston Island, but uses some three miles of Santa Fe track which it has leased to get to its Galveston depot. The question to be determined is whether or not leased track may be considered a part of the line of a railroad so far as the location of general offices is concerned. Under the administration of the late Tom Smith as attorney general, it was so held and the railroad seeks to remove its offices to Galveston on the strength of that.

WHICH TENDS TO KEEP THE BODY WHOLE?

- I. Tell the children not to play on the streets.

Stealing rides is dishonest. No matter how

U. S. CORN CROP IS GREATEST EVER

YIELD IN 1912 EXCEEDS ANY FORMER YEAR BY 281,921,000 BUSHELS.

$1,850,876,000 IS ITS VALUE

Enormous Sum of $9,171,344,000 Represents Products Harvested By the Farmers—Increase General.

Washington, Nov. 8.—A corn crop of 3,169,149,000 bushels, or 281,921,000 bushels more than the greatest crop of corn ever grown in any country of the world, is the feature of the country's most remarkable agricultural year in its history, according to the November crop report of the United States department of agriculture issued today. The report completed the government's preliminary estimates of the nation's principal farm crops. This great crop of corn was worth on November 1 to farmers $1,850,876,000. The enormous sum of $9,171,344,000 represented the farm value on Nov. 1 of the United States crops of wheat, corn, oats, flaxseed, potatoes and rye and buckwheat, with the value of the growing cotton crop and the crops of tobacco, rice and apples, the aggregate value of these principal farm products will mount well beyond the five billion dollar mark.

Upon the preliminary estimates of production and prices announced today the value of the crops figures out as follows:

Corn, $1,850,876,000; hay, $584,615,000; wheat, $603,629,000; oats, $476,165,000; potatoes, $188,567,000; barley, $129,845,000; flaxseed, $39,693,000; rye, $24,570,000; and buckwheat, $12,526,000.

Increase in Total Value.

There was an increase in the total value of each of these crops excepting buckwheat, potatoes, barley and rye. The increase netted $15,657,000 over the value of last year's crops. Record crops of corn, potatoes, flaxseed, oats, barley, rye and hay were harvested this year. The government's official estimates of the value of the various crops and its final estimates of total production will be announced in December.

WHEAT PRICES GO UP

DECISIVE INCREASE AT OPENING, HOWEVER, IS NEARLY ALL LOST.

Market Unsettled at Close—Corn Fairly Steady, Oats Unchanged. All Deals Kept Active.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—Chances that Austria would resort to arms in keeping Serbia from the Adriatic brought about a decided advance today in wheat. The gain, however, failed to hold, the market finishing unsettled 1/4¢ over last night. The latest trading left corn 1/2¢ down to a shade up, oats unchanged to 1/4¢ higher and provisions running from the same as 24 hours before to a decline of 20 cents. Shorts were covered into buying only to see the market break almost as soon as their wants had been supplied.

Corn traders received a surprise in the bullish nature of the government crop reports. The figures, however, arrived too late to be a factor today. Fine weather for husking and shelling told against prices. Cash grades were in good demand.

Reports that Argentine oats were being offered for January shipment at 2 cents under North American quotations caused a setback in that grain. Packers took advantage of an upturn in the hog market and provisions. The outcome was a decline for all the active options generally 5/8¢ to 1/2¢.

COTTON AT HIGH MARK

Heavy Realizing and Considerable Selling Finally Checks Upward Movement; Causes Reaction.

New York, Nov. 8.—There was another and still more excited advance in the cotton market today, which established new high records for the season and carried prices only 1/32¢ per bale above the closing figures of last night on a bullish view of the spinning returns. Heavy realizing and considerable selling for a reaction finally checked the upward movement and caused a reaction of several points, but the close was steady at a net gain of from 2 to 20 points for the day.

The market opened steady at a decline of 3 points on January, but generally unchanged and very quickly developed extreme firmness on the census report, showing 8,848,000 bales planned to November 1 against 9,970,000 last year.

The figures proved smaller than expected, and judging from the talk around the ring, as well as by the action of the market, the report was considered as favoring the smaller estimates of the crop. At any rate the buying movement became general. Not only was there a fresh demand from the outside sources, but old longs who had taken profits lower down appeared to be replacing their cotton and it was rumored that some of the stronger shorts who had opposed the recent advance were also covering.

Realizing was very heavy while there was also some selling for a set-back, but only slight reactions occurred. The market finally reached a net gain of from 20 to 21 points.

Twelve-cent predictions materialized when January sold up to 12.06 and at that level demand seemed to slacken while profit-taking by old longs became heavier and the market edged off from the best in the late trading when selling was encouraged to some extent by reports from New Orleans that southern spot markets were not fully following the upward movement.

New Orleans.

New Orleans, Nov. 8.—Cotton futures opened steady, unchanged to one point up, compared with the close of yesterday. Cables were about as usual and the weather map was unusually favorable.

The census on spinning up to the close of business on October 31 of 8,848,000 bales was slightly smaller than expected and was seized upon by the bulls as offering a chance to put the market up. Buying became heavy after the call and not much cotton was for sale. The market quickly ascended to a point 12 to 13 points over yesterday's close, where it stood at the end of the first half hour of business.

A very steady tone prevailed throughout the morning's session. Outsiders placed buying orders with commission houses and comparatively little short selling was in evidence except at one time, when cables from London stated that disquieting rumors were being circulated there concerning Germany's attitude toward Serbia. Bulls bought right up to the noon hour and report had it that the heaviest spot houses in the trade were doing much of the buying. Spinners' noon prices were 23 to 24 points over yesterday's final figures.

In the afternoon the market was very steady. In the trading up to 2 o'clock prices went to a level of 23 to 24 points over yesterday's last figures.

Estimates of Crop Yield Has Much to Do With Market—Bonds Are Irregular.

New York, Nov. 8.—Stocks were again reactionary today, opening with a wide variety of losses, which were somewhat extended by midday, but making up much of their decline toward the end. A factor in the recovery was the government crop report, issued in the final hour.

This fully confirmed the brilliant outlook in the past few months especially as to corn. The indicated crop of that cereal is 150,000,000 bushels greater than a month ago, the estimated yield for the year being 3,169,137,000 bushels as against last year's final figures of 2,887,458,000 bushels. Then, too, the quality on Nov. 1 was fixed at 10 1/2 which is compared with ten-year average of 9 1/2 and the yield per acre is estimated at 29 1/2, as compared with last year's final output of 23 1/2.

Bonds, Irregular, with total sales, par value, $2,125,000. United States bonds unchanged on call.

GREAT WELCOME TO DR. BROOKS

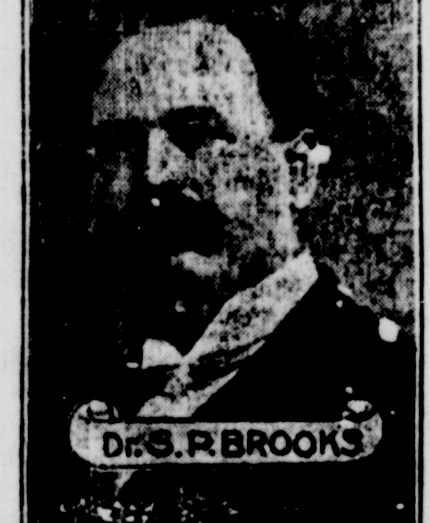

PRESIDENT OF BAYLOR IS RECEIVED BY GREAT CROWD ON HIS RETURN.

PARADE THROUGH THE STREETS

Mayor and Commissioners Participate Speeches Are Made in Carroll Chapel, Extending Glad Hand.

When Samuel Palmer Brooks, president of Baylor University, alighted from the Houston and Texas Central train yesterday afternoon, expecting an affectionate greeting from his wife and babies, glad to get home and weary of travel, he was given the surprise of his life.

The mayor, the town council, a band of police, the faculty of Baylor, the student body of Baylor, the Baylor band, and citizens generally were in the reception committee which welcomed him.

The success of Woodrow Wilson at the polls did not arouse any more enthusiasm among these loyal friends of the president of Baylor than the fact that Dr. Brooks had done his part in the warmth of the campaign, speaking in doubtful states for the former president of Princeton and for the principles of democracy. When it was announced that Dr. Brooks was due at home, a reception was arranged for him, and there gathered about the union station hundreds and hundreds of people of the reception party. As soon as Dr. Brooks stepped from the train, and after he had greeted his wife and children, he was taken in charge by the committee and a parade was formed. The parade, headed by a squad of Waco police, followed by the Baylor band. Then came the Rambler automobile of the city engineering department, occupied by Dr. Brooks, Mayor J. H. Mackey, Finance Commissioner T. A. Caufield, Fire Commissioner John F. Wright, City Engineer George Byars and James Hays Quarles.

Next came the car of R. H. Claypool with Mrs. Brooks and children. The students of Baylor, a thousand strong, followed marching on foot. The seniors headed one column of the parade followed by the girl students and the faculty headed the other column followed by the boy students.

Citizens in Carriages Were Next.

The line of march was on Austin to Sixth, on Sixth to Franklin, on Franklin to Fourth, on Fourth to Cleveland, on Cleveland to Fifth and on Fifth to Carroll chapel. That route was twenty-one blocks long—more than a mile of travel, and over that mile of travel on streets that had been freshly sprinkled and freshly oiled, those girls and boy students of the school followed the car in which rode Dr. Brooks. It shows a devotion and loyalty that is seldom equalled, but it is a devotion and loyalty that comes from college life and college spirit.

Dr. Brooks Deeply Touched.

Dr. Brooks was deeply touched by the reception given him. That it was a surprise was evident by his manner and that it affected him was shown by the break in his voice when he tried to talk. As he passed cheering crowds on the streets and tipped his hat, he remarked, "This is vastly different from the country through which I have but recently traveled. I have been where men are brave to be democrats. I have been speaking mostly in Pennsylvania and there as we would ride along the streets with banners flying proclaiming that we were democratic campaigners, they would poke their fingers at us in derision, and would say things that were not pleasant. The democrats of that country deserve credit for standing for the principles they do year after year, and fighting against the odds that are organized in opposition."

"Were the members of the national committee surprised at the landslide?" Dr. Brooks asked.

"No, they were not," he replied. "After I had been in that atmosphere awhile and had heard the things I did hear, I was prepared to believe the statement of Mr. Bryan that Wilson would carry every state in the union."

"Where were you when the news was received?" he was asked.

"I left New York City Tuesday night just after midnight," he said. "I wanted to see how they would take it, and I want to say to you that more enthusiasm was never shown in the world than was exhibited by that crowd that night. On the Herald square in New York, there gathered 100,000 people to see the bulletins flashed, and as the bright lights told the story, Wilson wins, there was a greater noise than I ever thought was possible. Men, women and children participated and I have never seen in any part of the world, such a gathering of people."

Dr. Brooks said that he met other Texans in the campaign, especially Congressman Henry and Cone Johnson, and they made a fine impression where they were speaking. Especially was this true of Cone Johnson, about whom everyone had a word of praise.

Mayor Mackey Speaks. When the parade arrived at Carroll chapel, the paraders gathered in the large assembly room, and the president of the university and others went to the stage. F. G. Guittard, master of ceremonies, first introduced Mayor J. H. Mackey.

The mayor said: "Ladies and Gentlemen: 'The mayor and commissioners come to help you welcome your president. Last Saturday night when I addressed the address of welcome at the Cotton Palace, I said that the Texas Cotton Palace was the best place in the world. I want to say tonight that Carroll chapel, of Baylor University, is the best place in Waco, and Waco is the best place in the world. We come tonight to help you welcome the biggest president and the best president of the best university in the world. All Waco is proud of Baylor University and proud of your president. As mayor of Waco I want to extend the glad hand and say we are proud of him and glad that he is home.'"

Students Welcome.

Roy Christian, of the student body, was introduced. He said: "None of the triumphal entries into Rome were ever more enthusiastic than the welcome we extend to our beloved president. He has just returned from participation in one of the greatest political campaigns in history, which has resulted in the election of Woodrow Wilson. I am glad that our own president was able to lend his influence to this political battle. The new president of the United States is a great man and president is at the head of the great capitalist university. I want to paraphrase a remark of Roosevelt when he was here. He said, 'I have had a bully time; good-bye; God bless you.' Dr. Brooks, we are glad to see you, president; it was a bully victory; God bless you."

William Josselyn, also of the student body, was introduced. He said: "I have been chosen to speak for the student body, but from the cheers I have heard from you I believe the student body can speak for itself. I am glad that Woodrow Wilson is our president and that our president had a part in it. We are glad that he has returned to us, and to him we bring our trophies and our loyal support."

Dean W. H. Pool.

Mr. Guittard then said he would introduce a man whose grandfather was born during the administration of Thomas Jefferson, whose father was during the administration of Andrew Jackson and he himself was born during the administration of a democratic president. He then presented Prof. W. H. Pool, dean of the school of commerce, and said that it was the second time that he has had the pleasure of celebrating the election of a democratic president while he has been with Baylor University. It is a great honor for the citizens of this great republic to manifest the patriotic spirit we have felt ever since the landslide of last Tuesday. Incidentally we come to welcome the return of our great leader, our noble friend Samuel Palmer Brooks. Prof. Pool then paid a high tribute to Dr. Brooks for his work for the national campaign, for his work in bringing about the endorsement of Baylor University and for his noble work as a citizen, and he spoke also a tribute to Mrs. Brooks.

When he had finished the student body gave the college yell for Mrs. Brooks and Dr. Brooks.

Dr. Brooks Responds.

Dr. Brooks was then introduced. He said: "Since I have been away I have not said fellow citizens, nor my countrymen. I haven't fitted in to anything I wanted to say. You have nearly broken my heart with your kindness."

Dr. Brooks then told of his journey from New York which lasted from 12:30 o'clock Tuesday night until he arrived here. He related some of his experiences in the campaign, and delighted his audience by telling them some of the things that go to make up a campaign in a doubtful state.

"I want to say to you students of history that I never needed my history as much as I did in this campaign. When I was a student I had the teacher in the class room with me and when I was a teacher I had my books the night before. I had never made a speech on the tariff except in the school room. The address Dr. Brooks made to the students entertained them very much. After he had concluded, the audience was dismissed."

Meeting of the Renters.

In annual convention, the Renters' Union of North America, convened here yesterday in a building at the corner of Fifth and Franklin streets, 112 delegates being present and 28 Texas counties being represented. The object of the organization is to fight landlordism in this state. A number of addresses were made, and the following officers were elected: W. S. Noble, Rockdale, chairman; J. C. Smith, El Campo, secretary; and E. R. Melton, Hallettsville, treasurer. The adoption of certain changes in the constitution of the organization proved the principal features of the day.

PICTURE MAN FOUND GUILTY

A. M. Jacobs is Convicted in Magistrate's Court for Violation of Sunday Law.

On a charge of having violated the Sunday closing law by operating his moving picture show, The Cozy, on Austin avenue on November 3, A. M. Jacobs was yesterday found guilty by a jury of six men in Magistrate Dan Ford's court and was fined $20 and the costs of the case. This is the first of a series of prosecutions being conducted by Assistant County Attorney Tiley against picture houses said to have been in operation last Sunday.

The first trial of this case Thursday resulted in a hung jury and the case was called for a new trial yesterday. The proceedings were enlivened by clashes between County Attorney Tiley, on the one side, W. R. Saunders and R. H. Kingsbury, representing the defendant, on the other side, and reprimands from the court. The evidence was practically the same as produced on the first trial of the case.

That the Morning News had a number of readers among the members of the jury panel was shown when that newspaper was brought to the front through questions to the members of the jury panel as to whether they had read the article bearing on the trial of the case Thursday, or whether they had read the article with reference to statements made by the Rev. Hubert D. Knickerbocker, pastor of the Austin Avenue Methodist church last Sunday. Most of them had, but declared that neither would affect them in rendering their verdict in the case on trial.

Mrs. Streetman and Harold Pasley, both employees at the show, again took the stand as did D. C. Woods, assistant county attorney, and Judge Tom McCullough, of the county court, was subpoenaed to testify as to certain phases of the law concerning which a difference of opinion arose between the counsel for the prosecution and defense. County Tax Collector Lee Davis was also in court with the records to show that A. M. Jacobs paid his occupation tax upon The Cozy Theatre.

Mrs. Streetman testified that she worked for A. M. Jacobs, that she saw him at his place of business Sunday, that she saw people go into and come out of the show and saw them put money down at the window. After each question came objection from the defense on the ground that the woman could not be forced to incriminate herself by relating any circumstance which might go to show that she was at work in violation of the law last Sunday. All such objections were overruled.

Charges went both ways that counsel were trying to "bait" each other, and the witness, and the court declared his ability to take care of himself.

Pasley's testimony was much the same. He said that he saw people go into and come from the theatre, that he is one of the operators of the moving picture machine, that he did not know whether they paid money or not, had seen Jacobs at the place early in the morning and that he saw pictures on the screen. He said Jacobs paid him his salary.

D. C. Woods, assistant county attorney, stated that he had visited The Cozy Theatre Sunday, entering 5 cents for the privilege of entering the show and seeing a moving picture show. He saw no vaudeville performance.

The state here rested. The defense called J. A. Lempe, proprietor of a moving picture show. He was asked to describe the difference between a moving picture show and a theatre. The state entered objection, cited authority bearing on the matter. The objection was sustained after a lively discussion.

After deliberating the jury reported that the defendant had been found guilty and assessed a fine of $20.

"Be it resolved: That this meeting of secretaries in convention assembled does tender its hearty thanks and appreciation to the Retail Merchants' association of Waco, the citizens of Waco and the daily press, for the courtesies and hospitality extended so liberally, and furthermore that the secretary of this association be instructed to give this resolution to the press for publication."

President R. E. Kerr of Fort Worth, discussing the meeting, said:

"It is my belief that this convention is the best ever held by the secretaries' association, and the benefits derived from this meeting of the local secretaries of the Retail Merchants' association will result in a better state organization and be the means of securing for the members more efficient service. We owe much to the newspapers of Waco for the splendid publicity the News especially having made a special effort to thoroughly report the convention."

While a few of the secretaries remained over until this morning, the majority of those who attended left Waco for home immediately after adjournment. The next meeting will be held at Beaumont.

Arrest in Connection With the Burglary of Home of E. R. Nash.

A sparkling diamond ring attracted too much attention on the finger of a young man mingling with the crowd at Fourth and Austin streets Thursday night. Officers Huff and Jenkins arrested him and after an investigation a charge of burglary was filed in the county court. He is alleged to have entered the home of E. R. Nash, 1703 Sanger avenue Thursday afternoon.

The ring belonged to Mrs. Mitchell, daughter of Mr. Nash. The house was entered some time while the occupants were away. When the disappearance of the ring was discovered the police were notified and the young man, who gave his name as Alva Cochran, was arrested shortly afterwards. The ring was identified by the owner.
